

Xeris Pharmaceuticals Announces New Board Members and New Executive to Management Team

July 30, 2018

Appointments reflect transition to publicly-listed company status

CHICAGO, July 30, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Xeris Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (NASDAQ:XERS), a specialty pharmaceutical company leveraging its novel technology platforms to develop and commercialize ready-to-use injectable and infusible drug formulations, announced today the appointment of four new independent members to its Board of Directors in conjunction with its recent IPO. In addition, the Company announced the recent addition of a new executive to its management team.

Joining the Board of Directors are B.J. Bormann, Ph.D., Dawn Halkuff, Marla S. Persky and Jeffrey W. Sherman, M.D., FACP. In addition, Allison Wey joins Xeris's leadership team as Senior Vice President, Investor Relations and Corporate Communications. The Company also announced the prior resignations of two Board members who originally joined the Board as members of Xeris's earlier venture funding rounds: Robert C. Faulkner, Managing Director at Redmile Group, and Cary McNair, Founder of Palmetto Partners.

"We are excited to announce the addition of these accomplished pharmaceutical industry leaders to Xeris," said Paul R. Edick, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Xeris. "Their guidance and expertise will be instrumental as we continue development of our glucagon rescue pen and new product pipeline and begin to commercialize our ready-to-use injectable and infusible drug formulations."

Mr. Edick added, "On behalf of Xeris's Board of Directors and management team, I would like to thank Rob and Cary for their outstanding leadership and for the role they played in helping Xeris transition to an innovative public company."

About Xeris Pharmaceuticals, Inc.

Xeris is a specialty pharmaceutical company leveraging its novel technology platforms to develop and commercialize ready-to-use, room-temperature stable injectable and infusible drug formulations. The Company's proprietary XeriSol™ and XeriJect™ formulation technologies are being evaluated for the subcutaneous (SC) and intramuscular (IM) delivery of highly-concentrated, non-aqueous, ready-to-use formulations of peptides, proteins, antibodies, and small molecules using commercially available syringes, auto-injectors, multi-dose pens, and infusion pumps. Xeris' platforms have the potential to offer distinct advantages over existing formulations of marketed and development-stage products. In particular, XeriSol™ and XeriJect™ have the potential to eliminate the need for reconstitution, enable long-term, room-temperature stability, significantly reduce injection volume, and eliminate the requirement for intravenous (IV) infusion. These attributes may lead to products that are easier to use by patients, caregivers, and health practitioners and reduce costs for payers and the healthcare system.
